DJ Dynamix Heads Into Red Bull's Thre3style Feeling Like 'I Can't Lose'

The LA turntablist draws inspiration from Mark Ronson's hit and a few other songs as he preps for the national finals.

It's never easy carrying the weight of an entire coast on your shoulders, but for Los Angeles-based DJ Dynamix, it's a welcomed challenge.

"I'm listening to a lot of different music right now, which helps when prepping for a competition," Dynamix told BET.com.

As a professional orchestrator of audible emotion, Dynamix has come up with his perfect lineup of hits to make any club, car or Bar Mitzvah turn up on the spot.

“Weeknd ‘Often,’ Kendrick Lamar’s ‘King Kunta,’ D’Angelo ‘Betray My Heart,’ Tuxedo’s ‘Number One’ and Mark Ronson ‘I Can’t Lose,”” Dynamix said, referring to his winning formula.

Like Mark Ronson, Dynamix feels he can’t lose and, with some of his biggest influences like Z-Trip, DJ Jazzy Jeff and Four Color Zack, serving as judges for this year’s Red Bull Thre3style National Final in Phoenix, he’s already an L.A. King.
